In the heart of Fano, the basilica of Vitruvius

After five centuries of research, the Basilica designed by Marco Vitruvio Pollione has been identified in the heart of Fano. A Roman architect of the 1st century BC, author of the celebrated De Architectura and father of Western architecture.

A discovery of extraordinary significance, confirming Fano as a key site of classical civilisation and European architectural culture.

This is not a simple archaeological find: it is a discovery that redefines Fano's role in Roman history. For centuries, the Basilica of Vitruvius remained an enigma – described in ancient texts and studied by historians, but never identified with certainty. Today that place finally has a form, a precise location, a real face.

And it is here.

This discovery gives Fano an even stronger identity: not just a Roman city, but a symbolic place of the most ancient architectural wisdom of the Western world, directly linked to one of the greatest thinkers in history.

In Fano, the heart of the most ancient architectural wisdom of the Western world.

Visite guidate alla Città di Vitruvio

A guided tour to discover the Roman roots and the most ancient history of Fano. The route includes a visit to Fano Sotterranea (Fano Underground), the excavations of the Basilica of Vitruvius and the symbolic sites that tell the story of the city's Roman origins.

VALLI A SCOPRIRE

Luoghi d'esperienze fra Metauro e Cesano

Scopri le Valli marchigiane del Metauro e del Cesano tra colline e mare, esplorando i territori, i luoghi d'arte, i sapori della tradizione e i saperi antichi.

 Valli a Scoprire

BRONZI DORATI DI PERGOLA

SAN COSTANZO

TARTUFO DI ACQUALAGNA

The Valli del Metauro and del Cesano connect with the city of Fano as a single, vibrant and multifaceted destination, one that generates unique experiences for visitors.

Coast and hinterland are not separate worlds – they are two sides of a territory that can only truly be understood together.

Valli a Scoprire is a bold vision: a DMO that is competitive outwardly and collaborative inwardly. A network of municipalities, tourism operators from both the coast and the hills, outstanding craftspeople and wineries, farmhouses and experiential museums, all working with the same energy to build an offering worth travelling for. In every season.

Some visitors arrive for the beach and end up tasting truffle; others come for the gilded bronzes and find themselves slipping into an ancient Renaissance fortress to uncover its secrets. Slow tourism that generates economic and human value – one extra night gives you countless stories to take home.

Valli a Scoprire manages the August crowds and makes the quiet of October equally appealing.

It creates themed combinations of services for visitors: nature, food, culture, adventure and wellbeing in every season, and for everyone – including those with special needs.

Valli a Scoprire is also the space where every tourism operator can compare notes and decide together with others and with local administrators on the priorities for the whole territory, ensuring a quality experience, consistency in outward communication and a genuinely meaningful digital presence to inspire new visitors both nationally and internationally.

Discover Fano by bike: sea, historic villages and nature in one bike friendly experience

Explore cycle tourism in the Marche with Noi Marche BikeLife, a circuit of 29 municipalities and over 800 km of routes connecting sea, hills and historic villages. Explore the territory through complete tailored itineraries, with bike-friendly facilities and certified guides.
